Bach Radio

Designed by Kirk Lambert

"Through my research into New Zealand kiwiana, I found that kiwi's loooooove beaches and relaxing. Therefore the perfect place to do that is the bach. The bach is a small house placed around beaches or out in the country, and where families travel for holidays.

You'll find that bach's are everywhere, and are a perfect model of New Zealand life. The bach represents all things kiwi, the chilled out life of hanging out in the sun, then returning to your bach and kicking back. I think this really does 'sound like us!'"
